

Disclosure of Relevant Financial Relationships

As an organization accredited by the ACCME, Southern Medical Association requires everyone who is in a position to control the content of an education activity to disclose all relevant financial relationships with any commercial interest. The ACCME defines "relevant financial relationships" as financial relationships in any amount, occurring within the past 12 months, including financial relationships of a spouse or life partner that could create a conflict of interest.

Southern Medical Association encourages Speakers/Authors to identify investigational products or off-label uses of products regulated by the US Food and Drug Administration, at first mention and where appropriate in the content.

March E. Seabrook, MD, FACP

March Seabrook, MD, FACP has been practicing gastroenterology in his home state of South Carolina since 1991. He grew up in Anderson and is a graduate of Wofford College and the University of South Carolina School of Medicine. He quickly developed a passion for colorectal cancer prevention after two of his best friends fathers died of this disease. He has channeled much of his professional energy into advancing screening programs for the uninsured in the state. These efforts have been recognized with multiple local, state and national awards. Consultants in Gastroenterology is a private independent practice with nine physicians in central South Carolina.

In addition, he has served in numerous leadership positions including founder and first President of the South Carolina Gastroenterology Association and is currently the President of the South Carolina Medical Association.

Disclosure:

- Dr. Seabrook has no relevant financial relationships to disclose:
- Dr. Seabrook does not intend to discuss off-label or investigational uses of drugs, mechanical devices, biologics, or diagnostics not yet approved by the FDA for use in the United States.

Planning Committee

The following planning committee members have no relevant financial relationships to declare:

Donald DiPette, MD

Christopher R. Morris, MD

Randall E. Glick, BSB/PM MCP

Jennifer Price, MA